Fall 2014
University of Iowa College of Law
Information and Instructions for Application to the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers

ADMISSION AND APPLICATION INFORMATION

Applicants for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers must hold a first degree in law from, or be a student with advanced standing (at least 2 years of study) at a university or college whose law degree requirements are comparable to those of the University of Iowa.

Although there are no rigid standards for class ranking or grade-point average, accepted applicants are generally ranked at or near the top of their law school classes or have otherwise demonstrated exceptional academic promise. Applications for admission are considered only for the current year and for full-time registration.

A completed application for the Advanced Standing JD Program should contain:

- Application form, with signature under section F. Certification
- Non-refundable application fee of $100 (USD)
- Supplemental information:
  - Two (2) letters of recommendation (to be sent by your recommenders)
  - Personal statement
  - Curriculum vitae/resume, written in English
  - Official transcripts
  - An LSAT score is not required, but may enhance your application
  - Evaluative Interview (to be scheduled after all other materials have been received)
  - TOEFL or IELTS score(s)

Application Deadline-April 30
Deadline for receipt of the completed Advanced Standing JD application is April 30 of the year in which you wish to begin your studies.

Application Filing Period
The Admissions Committee may exclude from consideration any application received after the deadline or incomplete at that date. Advanced Standing JD applicants whose files are complete by the deadline will be notified of admission decisions by May 31st.

All prospective students for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers are encouraged to submit their completed applications as soon as possible. Please keep in mind that your application file is considered complete only after we have received all of the following: application; application fee; official transcripts, curriculum vitae, & personal statement; English proficiency scores; and letter(s) of recommendation. Applications may be submitted in anticipation of taking the LSAT (optional); please inform the College if you plan to send a report of an LSAT score. When submitting documents, applicants are reminded to consider the fact that items submitted by international mail may be delayed.

Application
The application can downloaded at www.law.uiowa.edu/apply. Applications must be printed and mailed to the Admissions Office. Applications are not available to submit online. Full contact details are provided at the end of these instructions.
Application Updates
While the College of Law Admissions Office seeks to keep the applicant informed of progress on the application and the receipt of documents, it is the applicant’s responsibility to ensure that all parts of the application reach the Admissions Office by the deadline. The Admissions Committee does not review incomplete applications. All correspondence should be addressed to the College of Law Admissions Office, University of Iowa, 320 Melrose Avenue, Iowa City, IA 52242-1113 USA; phone 319-335-9095; fax 319-335-9646 (Attention: Admissions); e-mail law-admissions@uiowa.edu.

Application Fee
A non-refundable $100 fee is required of all applicants and must accompany your application in order for your request for admission to be considered. All fees must be paid in U.S. dollars in either a check drawn on a U.S. bank, a U.S. Postal Service money order, or an international money order. Make checks payable to “University of Iowa.” Do not send cash.

Letters of Recommendation
The College of Law requires applicants to submit at least two letters of recommendation. Recommendations from professors or others who can comment on your critical thinking, writing skills, and potential for success in law school are particularly welcome.

Personal Statement
The personal statement is required for all applicants. The application form contains complete instructions regarding the personal statement. The personal statement (submitted in English and limited to two to three pages) should address the following topics:

- Why do you wish to study law?
- Why do you want to study at the University of Iowa?
- What has been your most significant accomplishment?
- How would you contribute to our law school community and the legal profession?
- Describe any life experiences which would indicate unusual drive, determination, motivation, or leadership characteristics.

Curriculum Vitae/Résumé
A description of any employment or research experience should be included in a one to two-page curriculum vitae (CV) or résumé, submitted in English.

Transcripts
Official copies of academic records of course work completed in colleges, universities, technical institutes, or professional institutions are required. (Current or former University of Iowa students need not request University of Iowa transcripts or other transcripts previously submitted to the University.) Credentials submitted for admission become the property of the University and are not returnable or transferable. U.S. and Canadian transcripts must arrive in a sealed envelope mailed directly from the institution.

Academic records from other countries must bear the original stamp or seal of the university and signature of a school official (e.g., registrar or dean), and must be received from each institution you attended, regardless of duration of study or whether you obtained a degree. Copies certified by a notary public are not accepted.

- Academic records should include your years of attendance; the subjects you studied by year; the number of credits or units of weekly lecture and laboratory hours for each subject; grades, marks, or percentages earned in each course or year-end examination; and diplomas, titles, degrees, or certificates awarded.
- Documents not in English must be accompanied by complete, literal English translations certified by the issuing institution. Photocopies without this certification will not be considered official.

Law School Admission Test
While it is not required, all applicants for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers are encouraged to take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT) administered by LSAC, which should be done no later than February of the year for which you are applying. Please keep in mind that it takes roughly four weeks for LSAC to issue test results. For more information, please visit www.lsac.org/jd/lsat/about-the-lsat.asp.
Interviews for Advanced Standing JD Applicants
An evaluative admissions interview is required for applicants of the Advanced Standing JD Program. These evaluative interviews provide the Admissions Committee with additional information about your interpersonal skills, English proficiency, maturity, and motivation. Once your application is complete, the College of Law Admissions Committee will contact you with instructions on scheduling an interview, which, in most instances, will be done electronically.

Test of English as a Foreign Language
All applicants for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers whose first language is not English must submit scores on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), except as detailed in section C5 of the Application Instructions. Scores must be reported to the University directly from the testing agency. The University’s TOEFL school code is 6681. For more information, visit www.ets.org/toefl. Applicants scoring below the required minimum may inquire about conditional admission to the JD program pending successful completion of ESL training.

Reapplicants
If you are reapplying to the law school, you must submit a complete application. This full application will include the application form, an updated personal statement, two new letters of recommendation, and an updated curriculum vitae/résumé. The fee for reapplication is the same as that for first-time applicants: $100.

Tuition and Seat Deposit
Tuition for the Advanced Standing JD Program is listed at http://www.law.uiowa.edu/students/finaid. Tuition increases should be anticipated each year. In addition to tuition, the Law School charges the following non-refundable fees:
- Application fee $100
- Deposit of $250. Due 3 weeks after the admission date.

Costs
Tuition costs and costs of living at Iowa are significantly lower than at peer institutions. The table found at http://grad.admissions.uiowa.edu/jd-llm-programs-estimated-costs shows the costs for the academic year for US law students and international law students. Tuition discounts (at the resident rate) are provided after the first semester for students employed by faculty as research assistants, and many students take advantage of this opportunity. Research assistant positions are available after completion of one semester at the Law School. Please see the columns for “International Students with ¼-time or Greater Assistantships” and “International Students without Assistantships” for more information. The costs include an estimate of living expenses for twelve months. The total shown on that document is the amount of support from all sources that foreign students will need to show in order to obtain a student visa. It is reasonable to expect these amounts to increase somewhat each year.

Fellowships
No fellowship or grant assistance is available for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers. Students in this program may qualify for loans, as discussed below.

Loans
Under current federal regulations, only US citizens and permanent residents are eligible for federal student loans. Applicants who are not eligible for federal student loans may qualify for private loan programs. Information on private alternate loans may be found at http://www.uiowa.edu/financial-aid/aidtypes/loans/alternative.shtml. Applicants should also investigate loan opportunities in their home countries.

US citizens and permanent residents who wish to apply for a federal student loan should also submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) to determine their eligibility for federal loan programs. The FAFSA form is available online at www.fafsa.ed.gov and should be completed after January 1 of the year in which you wish to enroll. Individuals may also need to submit a signed copy of their federal tax return and W-2s to the University of Iowa. Individuals will be contacted via email should our Financial Aid Office require these forms. Instructions on completing the financial aid application can be found at http://www.law.uiowa.edu/students/finaid.
Employment
There are no teaching or research fellowships for graduate students at the law school, and Immigration and Naturalization Service regulations may prohibit students from seeking outside employment during their studies. ABA Section on Legal Education guidelines discourage employment in excess of 20 hours per week. Research assistant positions may be available, and students employed as research assistants qualify for tuition discounts (at the resident rate) as noted above. Students with questions about employment should discuss them with their advisor.

Visa Requirements
To qualify for a visa, foreign students admitted to the Advanced Standing JD Program must demonstrate their ability to fund one year of graduate study at the law school. Most students choose to enter the United States under an F-1 student visa or a J-1 exchange visitor visa. For additional information about visa options and regulations and immigration policies, contact a US embassy.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Read these instructions carefully before completing the application form. Remember that in order to be processed, your application must be signed, dated, and accompanied by the appropriate processing fee. Please type or print legibly in ink. Answer every question that applies to you. Make sure that your name appears at the top of each page of written material that you attach to this application.

A. Personal Information

A1. Name – List your name as you would like it to appear on all University records or as it appears on your passport. (If you are an international student, you are required to list your name as it appears on your passport.) If your name changes prior to enrollment, please notify the Office of Admissions in writing.

A3. US Social Security Number – We will use your Social Security Number to verify your identity for record-keeping purposes and to help match transcripts and other materials with your admission application. It will not be used as your student ID number. Your Social Security Number will be safeguarded by the University and will not be displayed on official records or made available to others. If you do not have a Social Security Number, leave this item blank.

A12-13. Citizenship – If you are a permanent resident of the U.S., submit a copy of your Permanent Resident (green) Card. If you mark “citizen of other country,” you must provide your current immigration status, if applicable (e.g., refugee, asylee, applicant for Permanent Resident Card) and country of citizenship. International applicants must indicate their country of citizenship and the nonimmigrant visa status they intend to hold while enrolled at the University.

C. Educational Information

C1. Session – The Advanced Standing JD Program normally begins each year in August. In exceptional cases, students may be admitted in January providing they attach an explanation of why they need and merit exceptional treatment.

C3. Post-secondary Education – This listing must be complete. Include every institution attended, regardless of the duration of study, type of enrollment (i.e., extension, correspondence, etc.), or whether you earned a diploma or degree. Omission or misrepresentation of information concerning enrollment in other colleges or universities is sufficient grounds for canceling one’s admission or registration.

C5. Test of English as a Foreign Language – All applicants for the Advanced Standing JD Program for Foreign-Trained Lawyers whose first language is not English must submit scores on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), except for those who:

- have completed a bachelor's degree at an accredited university in the US;
- have an equivalent degree from an accredited university in Australia, Canada (excluding Quebec), Ireland, New Zealand, or the United Kingdom;
- submit acceptable alternative evidence of a high degree of proficiency in English.

Otherwise:
- Applicants must have a minimum TOEFL score of 260 on the computer-based test (CBT), 105 on the Internet-based test (iBT), or 620 on the paper-based test (PBT).
- Scores must be reported to the University directly from the testing agency. The University's TOEFL school code is 6681. For more information, visit www.ets.org/toefl.

Alternative to the TOEFL

An International English Language Testing System (IELTS) total score of 8.0, with no subscore less than 7.0, may be used to satisfy the English language requirement. All IELTS test takers will be required to take the on-campus English Proficiency Evaluation.

English Proficiency Evaluation

Admitted students with TOEFL scores below 260 (CBT), 105 (iBT) or below 620 (PBT) are required to complete an on-campus English Proficiency Evaluation before their first registration for classes. The evaluation is scheduled for you during the orientation program and includes an oral interview, a written essay, and a reading component. Based on the results of the evaluation, students may be required to complete English as a Second Language (ESL) courses.

English as a Second Language Courses

The English as a Second Language Program, housed in the University’s Department of Linguistics, offers credit ESL courses for admitted students. Courses are offered in reading, writing, speaking, pronunciation, and grammar. The program also conducts the Iowa Intensive English Program (IIEP), a full-time, noncredit program designed for those whose English language skills are not sufficient to begin university studies. Enrollment in IIEP does not guarantee or imply admission to the University. For more information or to apply to IIEP, write to English as a Second Language Program, University of Iowa, 1112...
D. Statement in Determination of Residency (for U.S. citizens and Lawful Permanent Residents of the United States) — The classification of residents and nonresidents for admission, fees, and tuition purposes is based upon information furnished by you. The registrar is authorized to require additional evidence as deemed necessary to verify your status. Address questions to the Office of the Registrar, 1 Jessup Hall, Iowa City, Iowa 52242 USA, tel. 319-335-0238.

E. Supplemental Application Information (for international students only)

E.1-2. Country of Legal Permanent Residence and Foreign Home Address

The information you provide will be reported to SEVIS. Federal guidelines require that you give us a permanent foreign home address. This is the address you will return to when you have completed your studies in the United States.

F. Certification — Your signature verifies that all information contained in your application is factually correct and complete.

G. Supplemental Information

G14. Letters of Recommendation — At least one (preferably two) should be from law professors who know you (and the scope of your credentials) well. Ask them to be as specific as possible regarding how your academic achievements indicate your potential for rigorous graduate-level work. They should give some idea, if possible, of where you stand in class rank. Another source for recommendations would be senior lawyers for whom you have worked, especially if that work has been in an international context or in English.

Letters should be written on letterhead and must include an e-mail address or FAX number where the writer can be contacted for verification. Letters should be mailed directly and independently to the College of Law; or may be placed in a sealed envelope labeled with your name and the name of the writer, signed by the writer across the seal, and submitted with your completed application.

I. Financial Statement for International Applicants — Once recommended for admission, applicants from other countries must submit evidence of adequate financial support to cover the costs of one full year of study at the University of Iowa before a Certificate of Eligibility (I-20 A-B or DS-2019) will be issued. Students with dependents must include additional financial support for any dependents who accompany them.

Refer to Estimated Costs at www.uiowa.edu/admissions/graduate/costs. If the information necessary to complete your financial statement is not available at the time of your application, submit Item I – your Financial Statement—separately. Be sure to attach the appropriate attested supporting documents. Your admission cannot be finalized without proper certification of financial ability to provide support.

H. Personal Statement

Write a personal statement (limited to two or three pages). Your statement should address the following questions:

• Why do you wish to study law?
• Why do you want to study at the University of Iowa?
• What has been your most significant accomplishment?
• How would you contribute to our law school community and the legal profession?
• Describe any life experiences which would indicate unusual drive, determination, motivation, or leadership characteristics.

Write an additional statement (no more than one page) explaining why you want to transfer from your current law school to the University of Iowa College of Law.

If you feel that any circumstances have played a substantial role in your educational development and if you would like the Admissions Committee to weigh the factors involved, describe your situation on a separate sheet and tell why these circumstances should be considered. Examples of circumstances which could merit consideration are significant economic, social, physical or cultural factors in your background or any of the following:

• If you believe that your undergraduate grade-point average does not accurately reflect your academic ability, please specify the condition (e.g. illness) or obligations (e.g. employment) that interfered with your performance and why. If employment was the cause, indicate why you worked; how many hours per week you worked during each semester; and the type of employment.
• Describe anything you have done since your graduation from college or graduate school that you believe reflects your ability to perform competently in law school more accurately than your grade-point average indicates.
